UCSD Visual Arts Department Announces Open Studios

La Jolla, California – The Graduate Visual Arts Department at the University of California – San Diego invites the Southern California community to view the work of its current MFA students at Open Studios on Friday, April 4th from 2–8 pm.

From dirtbike culture, discarded fire alarms and Nanotechnology to stand up comedy, dream stimulation, and water balloons, the visual artists of UCSD's highly noted MFA program employ a wide range of subject matter in their multi-disciplinary practices. The resulting works are a rich array of technological investigation, social speculation, psychic space and real-world intervention.

Many of UCSD's MFA candidates have worked and exhibited widely throughout the globe. Within the Southern California art community, the students have recently collaborated with The Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego, Fritz Haeg's Sundown Salon, LA's LACE and Sixteen:One galleries and CECUT, Tijuana.

Join us for an afternoon of art, film, performance and music at the Visual Arts Facility, located off of Gilman Dr. on the UCSD campus.
